Product Description

MP Liquid Sealant is a single component, non-shrink, advanced sealant technology designed for filling pitch pans and sealing seams, endlaps, fasteners and flashings on metal roof systems prior to applying acrylic coatings.

It may be used in conjunction with ShapeShift™ straight and corner sections which can be combined to produce pitch pans of various sizes and shapes. It has adequate viscosity to avoid running on steep slope application and drain out issues that are encountered with less viscous sealers. MP Liquid Sealant is 100% solids which results in zero shrinkage. Temperature performance range is -40° F to +200° F.

Features & Benefits

- 100% solids will not shrink
- One-part sealer seals seams and fasteners, gutters and roof projections
- No primer is required on the inside surfaces of the pan
- Short cut-off string during application
- Tack-free with excellent cure times
- Flexible in low temperatures

Used as a component within these systems:

Applying to a pitch pan.
